Notes from AAW

AAW EXPLORE!

AAW EXPLORE! is a new member resource that makes exploring the most extensive online woodturning library in the world, quick, easy, and user-customizable. More than 2,500 items currently make up the expanding EXPLORE! collection, including articles from thirty years of the American Woodturner journal and AAW's cumulative collection of complementary publications.

EXPLORE! is easy to use.

- Login into the AAW website at woodturner.org.
- Under the "Publications" tab, select "AAW EXPLORE!"
- Select a Category from the dropdown menu.
- Refine the category by Keyword from the dropdown menu.
- Click the Search button.
- A list of items (articles and other media) with hyperlinks that meet your search criteria will be displayed.
- Click the "Globe" icon associated with any item listed to view it.

We encourage you to take a look at EXPLORE! and share this exciting new AAW member benefit with others.

If you haven't looked into the AAW- You should give it a try. There are literally hundreds of different articles, videos etc. that are available to members. You get a lot of bang for the buck!

Notes from the General Meeting: 12/8.2016

YUMMY!!

If you missed the December meeting- BUMMER!! We had our annual Christmas Party at Nordy's on our regular meeting date. A good time was had by all! Good food, good company, and again this year President Doug missed his true calling as an auctioneer.

I believe the final figures from the auction were that we made about $750.00!! That's a pretty good amount to get from a bunch of rib-stuffed members!

Pen turners club:

Because the pen turning meeting was so close to Christmas, we decided not to have a pen turners meeting this month. We will be back in business in January.

Beyond the Bark:

Editors Note: This thank you appeared in last months newsletter, but I would like to run it again. There are a lot of people who helped with the Beyond the Bark show this year, and we had what was possibly our best show yet. I would like to thank again everyone who helped and everyone who participated in the show this winter season.

The 2016 Beyond the Bark exhibit by the Rocky Mountain Woodturners is history now. It was a wonderful show, filled with many different examples and techniques of woodturning. Many visitors to the show commented that they had "never seen this kind of wood art before," and how beautiful they thought the pieces were. Each year we have sold more pieces than the previous year and we are developing a more educated public. Everyone who helped with the show had a great time. The gallery is already reserved for the first two weeks of November 2017, which again include the First Friday Art Walk.

Beyond the Bark committee

Editor's note: While there on "First Friday", I counted at one point in time, there were 67 people looking at the art exhibit on the walls, and looking at our woodturning. I would guess that there was about a 3-4X turnover of people. That would mean that night alone, somewhere around 250 +/- people saw the Rocky Mountain Woodturners in action. The times I spent there, showing people around, answering questions etc, it seemed like everyone was amazed at the type of work that is being done by our club members. GOOD JOB!! Thanks to all who helped with all aspects of the show, from the planning, to putting up, taking down, manning the exhibit etc.

As a final treat, I thought I'd include some pictures from the Beyond the Bark show and sale.

A VERY IMPORTANT MESSAGE from President Doug:

A big reminder to ALL members, that we will be electing a completely new slate of officers at the January meeting. If you are getting interested in doing something, let your friends know so that this election will go smoothly. Let's NOT wait until at the meeting to try and figure out who our next officer's candidates are going to be. This is crucial to the future operations of the club. Due to club bylaws, our current officers must relinquish their authority at that meeting due to term limits. I will not continue on as President.

Tonight's Speaker: Our very own Doug Schneider:

Hi, I'm Doug Schneider, a transplanted Iowa farm boy now living in the Wild West. After spending most of my high school days in the woodshop, I then moved to the woodshop at Univ. of Northern Iowa, where I received my B.A. Degree which led to 3 years of teaching Industrial Arts in Iowa. I then moved to Colorado to teach at C.S.U. while earning my Master's Degree. After a short teaching stint in New Mexico, I took a 12 1/2 year sabbatical from teaching. In the Fall of '93, I was offered a teaching job at Loveland High School which lasted for 21 years. My moving out here coincided with the AAW Symposium being held at CSU, and with the formation of the Rocky Mountain Woodturners Club. Getting involved with the club and meeting some of the outstanding members is what got me started down this path of turning obsession. It has been an amazing trip, and I have enjoyed every bit of it. When I came to Loveland, I thought that I was a pretty decent turner, even though at that time I was primarily a spindle turner, not too good at turning bowls, and had not yet turned a hollow form. But after seeing all of the evolution and growth that had taken place in the 12 years that I was away from turning, I knew that I was starting all over again from square one, and I want to thank all of the early members of RMWT who helped, mentored, assisted, taught, critiqued, and encouraged me to become the turner that I am today. I certainly could not have made this trip by myself.

The demo that I will be doing, will be creating a basket weave dish. I will be starting with a rough blank, shaping the form using my personal favorite tools and techniques. Once the dish is shaped, I will demonstrate my method of using beading tools, and then show how to get the radial lines onto the turning, both on the lathe, and burning them in later using the pyrography pen. The next step will be prepping the piece for the coloring process. After deciding what design to put on the piece, I'll show you my method, and preferred pens for coloring. Assuming that I have enough time, I plan on being able to show all of you all of the steps involved in making a basket illusion bowl, and still have time to answer questions you may have regarding this process. You can call it whatever you want; basket illusion, allusion, or even delusion. Sometimes, any of these descriptors are appropriate.

Vinny Luciani

I was born into woodworking.....my father owned a custom furniture shop on Long Island N.Y.

I learned from him all the tools and tricks he learned as an apprentice in the "old Country", Italy.

Through all these years of furniture building, antique restoration and duplication, it is the wood itself that I enjoy.....it`s nature, history, and character. I owned an antique restoration shop for 18 years. This is where the beginnings of my passion for wood LATHE work began, duplicating antique finials and other elements of fine furniture. I am now a full time independent woodturner, working with the medium I still love....figured woods of all kinds, chainsawn and mounted on the lathe, drawing on a on a lifetime of experience and observation.

In my work, I strive to combine the tactile and visual nature of wood with my perceptions of form and line, actual and implied. The pieces often require extensive carving and shaping along with the lathe work. Inspiration arises most often from my awareness and observations of organic forms all around us. ...for example, my latest "Ocean" series which is inspired by the theme of endangered ocean reefs and my experiences with the ocean.

I am proud to be a part of the wood turning community here in Colorado Springs as a member of the local Pikes Peak Woodturners club and as a member of the American Association of Woodturners. I am an avid student of the many masters in this field and constantly study and aspire to become a better artist. In 2013 I was the featured artist in the October issue of Woodturning Design Magazine.

Wood and equipment for sale: I still have too much stuff to fit into the new shop. This is not trash stuff, but primo pieces from my long term hoarding of the best wood. Exotics (including some nice pieces of Cocobolo), Aussie Burl offcuts, Mesquite burl, large platter blanks of Pau Amarello, Mahogany, and Cherry, and other choice pieces.

Shopsmith 10ER ($200) This is a vintage Shopsmith model 10ER, serial number 37519. It is an older model of Shopsmith, not the one that has all the attachments. If you know these machines, you know what it is. It is in good working order. A couple of the knobs are broken, and have been replaced. I have saved the originals to fix. Includes Table saw table, Disk Sander disk, 4 arbors, Drill Chuck, Table Saw Fence, a Miter Gauge for the table saw, that looks home made and not original. It has the lathe tailstock part, but not the table saw extension table that goes on it, or the toolrest for the lathe. The motor is 1/3hp, single phase 115VAC. The variable speed drive is working well. This is a nice vintage machine in good condition. Made back when the best machines in the world were made in America! A classy machine, very well built.

Legacy Ornamental Mill Model 1000 ($2000) The Legacy Ornamental Mill/Lathe is for fluting, reeding, twists, and other router milling on wood. This model is an older one, Model 1000. It is not CNC or power feed. Total length of machine 86" x 26". Workspace size about 69" x 8". I got this machine to do some replacement balusters for the Stanley Hotel several years ago. Now I have moved into a smaller shop and need the space. Does a variety of pitches, including some non-standard ones. Everything works very well. Router (with height adjustment), extra gears, owners manual included.
